

New Titles at Quaker Book Service

The following new titles have been added to our stock since our 2011/2012 catalogue was issued.

PEACE

Answering the Violence: Encounters with Perpetrators by John Lampen. Pendle Hill Pamphlet 412, 2011.

John Lampen, a peace activist in Northern Ireland and elsewhere, draws on his own experiences and accounts of others in facing agents of violence in a friendly way. (40 pp; $8.45)

SOCIAL WITNESS

Realizing the UN Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples edited by J. Hartley, P. Joffe, and J. Preston (staff member of CFSC). Purich Publishing Ltd., Saskatoon, 2010.

This collection of essays, by an impressive list of indigenous leaders and knowledgeable representatives from other organizations, examines in detail the Declaration, the importance of its adoption, and the need for action on its implementation in advancing human rights. (287 pp; $38.00)

ENVIRONMENTAL CONCERNS

How on Earth Do We Live Now? Natural Capital, Deep Ecology and the Commons by David Ciscel, Barbara Day, Keith Helmuth, Sandra Lewis and Judy Lumb. Quaker Institute of the Future Pamphlet 2, 2011.

The title is “a cry of alarm and a call for action” to explore the essential parts of the Earth’s commons: property and water. The pamphlet presents a challenge to Quakers and others to rebuild environmental integrity. (91 pp; $9.00)

Genetically Modified Crops: Promises, Perils and the Need for Public Policy by Anne Mitchell, Pinavur Rajagopal, Keith Helmuth and Susan Holtz, Quaker Institute of the Future Pamphlet 3, 2011.

The pamphlet accesses the record of genetically modified crops and the role of their regulation. The authors are members of Canadian Quaker Meetings (68 pp. $9.00)

LIFE IN COMMUNITY

Meeting by Deborah E. Haight, Canadian Quaker Pamphlet No 67, Argenta Friends Press, 2008.

Back in print is this landmark Sunderland P. Gardner lecture of 1987 in which the speaker elaborates on what the word “Meeting” means to Quakers. Deborah Haight (1911-2004) was a birthright Canadian Quaker, long active in Ottawa and Yearly Meetings. (50 pp; $7.50)

DISCIPLINES AND DIRECTORIES

Faith and Practice by Canadian Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends. Ottawa, Canada. 2011.

IT’S HERE: Our Canadian book of Faith and Practice with a total of 389 selected extract passages, many written by Canadian Quakers. Comprehensive index. Illustrated. (250 pp; Hard Cover $31.00; Soft Cover $22.95)

Mind the Oneness: The Foundation of Good Quaker Business Method by Robert Halliday. Quaker Home Service, London, UK. 2010.

The author examines the Quaker way of making business decisions, presenting a balance between theory, discovery and practical applications. He challenges the discipline of members individually and corporately in meetings for worship for business. (85 pp; $17.50)
